This is an indicative list of activities held and not exhaustive.
4. Under Research, Innovation and Extension it was decided that –
 - a. Student seminars be conducted in the areas such as - how to carry out research, its methodology, statistical tools needed for research. Students from BBA and B.Com be identified for involving them into research either independently or through their mentor professor.
 - b. Papers be published by the teachers in journals that are recognized by the UGC. Financial support needed to carry out such research especially by the students will be provided by the trust.
 - c. Extension activities in the form of collaboration with NGOs and industry.

- d. One of the IQAC members representing the industry Mr. Narayan Punjabi invited a collaboration with our college over issues such as field visits, internship and provision of employment.
5. Under infrastructure and learning resources, Library – as an important academic resource was discussed. Looking at the pressing need to improve upon research, provision of better academic resources was felt and membership of better equipped libraries was suggested.
6. It was decided to identify NGOs that could provide scholarships to our students. The IQAC member representing the college trust Mrs Poonam Kishanchandani offered to help the college with a tie up with Rotaract, Khadki and get our students associated with Rotary. It was recommended that each committee formed for whatever purpose should have a students' representative.
7. Under Governance, Leadership and management it was decided to lay emphasis on teachers getting membership of various organizations. It was also decided that a seminar on quality assurance be conducted.
8. Placement committee was directed to prepare a letter of introduction about our institute and placement cell for collaborative activities between the college and the industry so as to place our students. Ms Shalu Ramanani and Dr Ajit Gaikwad were asked to find out students' interest in taking up jobs of their interest and a questionnaire to that effect was suggested to be prepared.

The meeting ended with thanks to the chair.
